

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

HENRY WARD BEECHER.

What should be his next subject? "The True Nature of the Marriage Relation." The Young Men's Christian Association have made arrangements for a series of three lectures, and as a matter of course, have selected three of our most eminent men to deliver the same, John H. Ingraham, Henry Ward Beecher, and Horace Greely. Mr. Beecher has chosen for his subject, "Habit, Mr. Greely, 'The Woman Question,' but Mr. Beecher has not as yet hit upon any.

The late Rev. Richard D. Webb, who has been so long and so successfully engaged in the cause of the colored race, has been so long and so successfully engaged in the cause of the colored race, has been so long and so successfully engaged in the cause of the colored race.

Mr. Beecher comes before the people of Philadelphia in the capacity of a teacher, and it is alluring to think that he will be able to do so with a full sense of responsibility, whether his children shall be taught such pernicious ideas in their hearts as to be true to every finer feeling of a pure morality and true Christianity.

They are prepared to endorse his course, then let them crowd forward on the occasion of his next appearance, and let the Academy from pit to dome, let their praise of the unalloyed fact, without a sense of self-abasement, until their minds are bewildered by the fascination of his sophistry, and their hearts have become callous to every finer feeling of a pure morality and true Christianity.

The New Yorks' Home.—The managers of the New Yorks' Home have issued a circular, stating that they have purchased the houses No. 915 and 916 South Second street, and have arranged for the reception of inmates. The circular states that there are many boys in our large city, who, through loss of parents or other causes, are left without suitable homes, and with no one to care for them, and are thus exposed to many temptations.

Twenty-fifth Anniversary.—Last evening, a very interesting anniversary was celebrated at Seventeenth street, near the city hall, being the occasion of the celebration of the twenty-fifth year of the existence of the Samuel J. May Society. The meeting was called by the Rev. Dr. W. P. Heilings, and was attended by a large number of friends.

Local News and Events.—The S. P. C. A. should consider the people's companies to run electric trams such weather as this. Rev. W. P. Heilings preaches the annual sermon before the Philadelphia Baptist Ministerial Society to-night in the City Hall.

Insurance Curious.—Early last evening a portion of the culvert running through Canal street gave way below St. John street, thus making a dangerous opening in the street. A man who was passing by, stepped into the hole, and was held up by the iron bars of the culvert. He was rescued by a policeman at the spot, where, lantern in hand, he kept guard until this morning. Pitt the poor policeman.

Disposed to be Clean.—Several skulls in the name of a specimen of the Protophysa which had been taken in the city of Philadelphia, and were in possession of a collector, were found to be of a very different nature from those which had been taken in the city of Philadelphia.

Another Death from Coal Oil.—Mary Holman, aged thirty years, residing in Passyunk, was fatally injured by the explosion of a coal-oil lamp about 10 o'clock last night. She was removed to the Pennsylvania Hospital, where she lingered, suffering intense pain, until this morning, when death relieved her.

Reunion.—The reunion last night at Horticultural Hall was a decided success, and gave indication of a very great interest in the cause of the colored race. The meeting was held at Horticultural Hall, and was attended by a large number of friends.

Market News.—A character named Frank Roberts was arrested yesterday afternoon for attempting to rob a stall in the Spring Garden market. He was taken to the City Prison, where he is now confined.
